ABOUT US

The Chicago Chapter of the Appraisal Institute (CCAI) is searching for businesses and individuals interested in supporting the mission of one of the largest, most respected, and well-known Chapters of the Appraisal Institute. The Chicago Chapter of the Appraisal Institute has more than 5,000 visitors each year, and its website attracts an average of 1,500 unique visitors each month. The Chapter features an e-mail distribution list that reaches thousands of real estate appraisers through the Midwest.

MISSION

The Chicago Chapter is here to support you – the professional appraiser – to do your very best work, and in so doing, to strengthen the role of appraisers as a reliable link within our economy.

We do that by offering the finest in appraisal education, professional development, and networking opportunities. Candidates for a professional designation will find sage, encouraging advisors and a framework to help facilitate a meaningful, while urgent, path toward earning a professional appraisal designation. No matter where you are on the path to a professional appraisal designation, you are welcome to join us. Our association is here and now, for you.

Joseph C. Magdziarz New Member Development Fund

The Joseph C. Magdziarz Development Fund, introduced this year, was established to attract new members to the Chicago Chapter. This fund will award new members of CCAI $150 to use towards any class presented by CCAI.

CCAI is asking for donations starting at $150 to help sponsor this educational opportunity for new appraisers.

This fund is named for Joseph C. Magdziarz, MAI, SRA, AI-GRS, AI-RRS, a preeminent member of the Chicago Chapter. As he is known, Joe Mags, or Papa Joe, has been educating new appraisers in the industry for most of his career. He continues to mentor his students beyond their time in the classroom.
